

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

December 8, 1960

Dear Bud:

The President has asked me to convey to you his appreciation of the important contributions which you made as a consultant to the PSAC in the evaluation of the technical basis needed for the formulation of sound national policies.

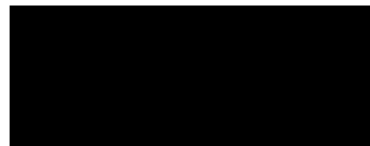

I join him in expressing to you my appreciation and wish also to express my gratitude for your untiring efforts in helping this office to develop objective judgments on the many matters with which it has been concerned.

To facilitate any reorganization of this office that the incoming Administration may desire to make, all existing panels of the PSAC are being disbanded and I would appreciate your returning to this office, before January twentieth, your EOB pass and the book of TR's if you have one. I hope though that should there be a call upon you for continuing contributions you will find it possible to give your assistance in the future as in the past.

With all good wishes and thanks.

Sincerely yours,

FOIAb6
